Mints Equipped to Make More Coins in a Day.

To provide ingots for making one-cent and five-cent pieces, which are being coined in larger quantities every year, a new casting machine that turns out ingots weighing more than five times as much as those heretofore used, has been placed in service in the United States mint at Philadelphia. In connection with this machine larger rolls for forming the plates from which the coin "blanks" are cut are also being used, the whole purpose of the improved equipment being to turn out more coins in a day. How important this is, is shown in the fact that each year there is now a de-man for approximately 100,000,000 one-cent pieces and 60,000,000 five-cent pieces, or "nickels."—From the June Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Motor Road Machine a Success.

Kinston, May 29.—The motor road machine of the Lenoir county force is being seen by the commissioners of a number of other East Carolina counties. An agent of the manufacturers has demonstrated it to advantage recently. Pasquotank and Pitt counties have purchased similar machines, and Greene county is expected to follow suit. Lenoir county will purchase another, intending to maintain 800 miles of roads with the two.

GERMANY'S REPLY EVADES QUESTIONS

events mentioned by the American government.

"Regarding, firstly, the cases of the American steamers Cushing and Griff light, the American embassy has already been informed that the German government has no intention of submitting neutral ships in the war zone, which are guilty of no hostile acts, to attacks by submarines or aviators. On the contrary, the German forces have repeatedly been instructed most specifically to avoid attacks on such ships.

"If neutral ships in recent months have suffered through the German submarine warfare owing to mistakes in identification, it is a question only of quite isolated and exceptional cases, which can be attributed to the British government's abuse of flags, together with the suspicious or culpable behavior of the masters of the ships.

"The German government in all cases in which it has been shown by its investigations that a neutral ship, not itself at fault, was damaged by German submarines or aviators, has expressed regret over the unfortunate accident and, if justified by conditions, has offered indemnification.

Cushing and Griff light.
"The cases of the Cushing and the Griff light will be treated on the same principles. An investigation of both cases is in progress the result of which will presently be communicated to the embassy. The investigation can, if necessary, be supplanted by an international commission of inquiry as provided by article 3 of the Hague agreement of October 18, 1907.

"When sinking the British steamer Falaba the commander of the German submarine had the intention of allowing the passengers and crew a full opportunity for a safe escape. Only when to leave to, but fled and summoned help by rocket signals, did the German commander order the crew and passengers by signals and megaphone to leave the ship within ten minutes. He actually allowed them 23 minutes time and fired the torpedo only when suspicious craft were hastening to the assistance of the Falaba.

"Regarding the loss of life by the sinking of the British passenger steamer Lusitania, the German government has already expressed to the neutral governments concerned its keen regret that citizens of their states lost their lives.

"On this occasion the imperial government, however, can not escape the impression that certain important facts having a direct bearing on the sinking of the Lusitania may have escaped the attention of the American government.

"In the interest of a clear and complete understanding, which is the aim of both governments, the imperial German government considers it first necessary to convince itself that the necessary access to the government about the facts of the case is complete and in accord. The government of the United States proceeds on the assumption that the Lusitania could be regarded as an ordinary unarmed merchantman. The imperial government allows itself in this connection to point out that the Lusitania was one of the British merchant ships, built with government funds as an auxiliary cruiser and carried expressly as such in the 'navy list' issued by the British admiralty. It is further known to the imperial government from trustworthy reports from its agents and neutral passengers, that for a considerable time practically all the more valuable British merchantmen have been equipped with cannon and ammunition and other weapons and trained with persons who have been specially trained in serving guns. The Lusitania, too, according to information received here, had cannon aboard, which were mounted and concealed below decks.

"The imperial government, further, has the honor to direct the particular attention of the American government to the fact that the British admiralty in confidential instructions issued in February, 1915, recommended its merchant ships not only to seek protection under neutral flags, but also, while disguised to attack German submarines by ramming. a special invitation to merchantmen to destroy submarines the British government also offered high prizes and has already paid such rewards.

Not as "Undeclared."

"The imperial government, in view of these facts, indubitably known to it, is unable to regard British merchantmen in the zone of naval operations specified by the admiralty staff of the German navy as 'undeclared.' German commanders consequently are no longer able to observe the customary regulations of the prize law, which they before always followed.

"Finally the imperial government must point out particularly that the Lusitania on its last trip, as an auxiliary cruiser, carried Canadian troops and war material, including no less than 5,400 cases of ammunition intended for the destruction of the brave German soldiers who are fulfilling their duty with self-sacrifice and devotion in the fatherland's service.

"The German government believes it was acting in justified self-defense in seeking with all the means of warfare at its disposition to protect the lives of its soldiers by destroying ammunition intended for the enemy.

"The British shipping company must have been aware of the danger to which the passengers aboard the Lusitania were exposed under these conditions. The company in embarking them, notwithstanding this attempted deliberately to use the lives of American citizens as protection for the ammunition aboard and acted against the clear provisions of the American law which expressly prohibits the forwarding of passengers on ships carrying ammunition and provides a penalty therefor. The company, therefore, is wantonly guilty of the death of so many passengers.

Explosion of Ammunition.

"There can be no doubt, according to the definite report of the submarine's commanders, which is further confirmed by all other information, that the quick sinking of the Lusitania was primarily attributable to the explosion of the ammunition shipment caused by a torpedo. The Lusitania passengers would otherwise, in all human probability, have been saved.

"The imperial government considers the above mentioned facts independent enough to recommend them to the attentive examination of the American government.

"The imperial government, while withholding its final decision on the demands advanced in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania until receipt of an answer from the American government, feels impelled in conclusion to recall here and now that it took cognizance with satisfaction of the mediatory proposals submitted by the United States government to Berlin and London as a basis for a modus vivendi for conducting the maritime warfare between Germany and Great Britain. The imperial government by its readiness to enter upon a discussion of these proposals, then demonstrated its good intentions in ample fashion. The realization of these proposals was defeated, as is well known by the declinatory attitude of the British government.

EQUINOX MILLS TO BE ENLARGED SOON

Main Building to be Lengthened
—Some New Cottages.

Plans for the enlargement of Equinox mills and the erecting of about 25 cottages for the operatives became known yesterday when Mr. Joe E. Sirrine, widely known mill engineer of Greenville, came to Anderson for the purpose of inspecting the site of the proposed improvements and gathering data to be used in the preparing of plans and estimates for the new work. The mill building will be enlarged by the addition of 72 feet to the length of the main portion. This addition will permit of a re-arrangement of the machinery in the plant, which will result in an increase of from 10 to 20 per cent in the output of the mill, it is stated.

In addition to these improvements, the management of the Equinox mills, Mr. Robt. E. Ligon, announces that a lighting system will be installed in the village. The street lighting system will be erected by the Southern Public Utilities company, and will consist of seventy-two 60 candle power Mazda lamps.

The improvements are to be carried out right away.

SHRINERS TO ATTEND MEETING AT SEATTLE

Arrangements Being Made to Finance Trip to Imperial Shrine.

Columbia, May 31.—If plans of Omar Temple now forming and the efforts of the potentate and nobles of the Shrine succeed, South Carolina will claim a large place in the sun at the meeting of the Imperial Shrine in Seattle, Wash., in July. It had been expected that the temple would be able to bear the expense of the band and patrol to the Washington metropolis, but at the ceremonial session it was found that the state of the treasury would not permit. The men of the two organizations were not dismayed and at once set about seeking other ways of bringing the mountain to Mahomet when Mahomet could not go to the mountain.

A meeting was held in Charleston at which Potentate R. A. Cooper and Recorder Henry A. Strohecker met Capt. Pierre Mazzyk of the band, Capt. G. J. McDowell of the patrol, Lieut. Frank Ehrlich, Lieut. Parrott, Lieut. Freyschmidt, and Noble Boineau, chief musician of the band. It was decided at this meeting to request the potentate to issue a call on members of Omar temple for a contribution of $10 each to defray the expenses of the two organizations to Seattle and return. The individual members of the organizations will raise $2,000. The expense of the trip will be about $8,000, leaving about $6,000 to be raised by the members of the temple.

DR. AND MRS. VINES LEFT YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Many People at Station to Bid
Them Goodbye—Highly Honored.

Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Dr. and Mrs. John F. Vines left over the Piedmont and Northern for Roanoke, Va., where the former accepted a call several weeks ago. Numbers of people were at the station to bid them goodbye and wish them much success in their new field.

During the seven years which Dr. and Mrs. Vines have made their home and where they have labored so faithfully, the people here fell deeply in love with them and it was with genuine sadness that they saw them go to Virginia. During the past few days they have been honored with many luncheons and dinners.

A Live Town.

"The merchants in this place do not seem to do any advertising," remarked the stranger.

"No," replied the editor of the local paper. "They are too busy bragging that this town has the finest cemetery in the State."

This conversation took place in Greenville, Greenwood or Spartanburg.
